

REVENUE CYCLE MANAGEMENT

Money, Managed

Through the support of its sponsors, Pennant Health Alliance can deliver a world-class revenue organization to independent hospitals and physicians, with a focus on improving cash flow, reimbursement, and receivables.

This service offering provides new levels of innovation for health care and works collaboratively with payers to improve administrative efficiency.

Called a Unified Revenue Organization (URO), the model incorporates best practice design in all phases of the revenue cycle. Our sponsors' URO model has achieved benchmark performance in all phases of the revenue cycle, and can consult with your organization to reach similar performance.

Pennant Health Alliance is ready to help assess and improve revenue cycle operations for both hospital and physician organizations. Affiliates may contract for consultative services as well as operational oversight for many phases of the revenue cycle.

A partial list of potential services includes:

- Evaluation of Medicaid eligibility
- Recovery of underpayments and denials
- Quality health record and coding audits
- Clinical documentation improvement

Pennant Health Alliance understands the importance of revenue cycle management and what it means to keep community hospitals and physicians viable. Working within a provider's local constraints, our URO model can ease the burden of maintaining the specialized resources and knowledge required for revenue optimization. Services range from consultative process improvement to full outsource, and any hybrid model in between.
